

About Us

The Santa Barbara Guitar Store was founded by Frank DeMarco, in July of 1962. The idea was to provide a sales service of guitars and basses in this little city in California, by building a local guitar store.

The store quickly gained popularity in the area, thanks to the success of Fender and Gibson in those years.

Since then the store has grown significantly, not only in terms of the size, but also in terms of products provided.

In fact, at our store you can find guitars, basses, amps, pedals, pickups, electrical components and a lot more.

Through the years we also added a group of luthiers to our team, in order to provide a repair service (see the "Repair Service" section).

You can read more about our story on our website www.santabarbaraguitarstore.com.
